

A diagram of a document page with a blue border and four red crosshairs at the corners, with the number 13 in the center.

A blue quadrilateral frame containing the red number 17 and four small red and blue markers.

A diagram of a document page. The page is represented by a blue, irregular border. In the center of the page, the number "12" is written in red. At each of the four corners of the page, there is a red L-shaped marker, consisting of a short horizontal line and a short vertical line meeting at a right angle. The markers are positioned such that they appear to be at the corners of a rectangular area within the page.
