1. NUMBER OF VIEWS

The student with the most number of views for all of their instructables receives the amount of points equal to the number of students in the class at the time of tallying. The next highest number of views receives the amount of points equal to the number of students in the class at the time of tallying minus one, and so on.

20 students = 20 points for most views

More instructables = more views

2. FEATURED INSTRUCTABLE

Bonus points will be awarded to any student whose instructable is featured by one of the editors at Instructables.

* a featured instructable often gets posted to the home page which usually results in more views.

10 points for each featured instructable

3. STUDENT RATING

Your student rating will determined by your teacher and will be based on the following criteria:

1. Citizenship        - respect for rules and expectations
2. Efficiency         - makes efficient use of class time and resources
3. Creativity         - makes a distinct effort to come up with original ideas
4. Enthusiasm      - contributes to a positive work environment

20 points available up to 5 points awarded for each category

4. ATTENDANCE

The student with the fewest number of absences receives the amount of points equal to the number of students in the class at the time of tallying. The next fewest number of absences receives the amount of points equal to the number of students in the class at the time of tallying minus one, and so on.

Absences are totalled regardless of reason.

20 students = 20 points for fewest absences

1 Late = 1/2 Absence

5. PROJECT COMPLETION

The student with the highest mark receives the amount of points equal to the number of students in the class at the time of tallying. The next highest mark receives the amount of points equal to the number of students in the class at the time of tallying minus one, and so on.

Students must complete all project requirements in order to be eligible for prizes. Projects submitted later than any posted due date may be assessed a late penalty of up to 5 points.

20 students = 20 points for highest mark

Please finish your work in a timely fashion.